A project supported by PEACEPLUS, a programme managed by the Special EU Programmes Body (SEUPB)

Causeway Coast & Glens
PEACEPLUS Programme

The recent residential partnership meeting at the end of August provided an excellent opportunity for the partnership to come together, share updates, and strengthen collaboration across the Causeway Coast & Glens PEACEPLUS programme.

A major focus was the series of project presentations, with seven initiatives taking the floor to provide overviews of their work. Each project outlined its objectives, progress to date, and anticipated impact, giving partners valuable insights into the breadth and depth of activity currently under way.

These presentations highlighted the range of innovative approaches being delivered across different communities and thematic areas.

Partners appreciated the opportunity to hear directly from project leads, ask questions, and explore potential areas of collaboration. The presentations sparked lively discussion around shared ideas, and ways to maximise participation and impact. Many attendees noted how beneficial it was to gain a fuller understanding of the diverse work being supported.

The session continued with programme updates, operational matters, and key dates for the months ahead. This ensured all partners were aligned on current priorities and upcoming opportunities.
